

A photograph of a control room or dispatch center. It features a long white desk with several black office chairs. On the wall behind the desk are three large monitors. The rightmost monitor displays a blue screen with a white 'B' in the top left corner and some graphical elements. There are various pieces of electronic equipment, including what appears to be a radio console, on the desk. The room is lit by recessed ceiling lights.

Reliable communication
No interference

Tetra Combiner

for mobile communication command, first responders, police- & fire brigade stations and control rooms.
Also suitable for DMR(UHF) applications

Amphenol®